

Kori Chambers

Kori L. Chambers is Associate General Counsel, Litigation, for Indiana University Health, Inc. and Indiana University Health Risk Retention Group, a medical professional liability carrier for health care providers with a substantial relationship with Indiana University Health. Ms. Chambers manages medical and general liability claims at Indiana University's state-wide in-patient hospitals and physician practice locations. Prior to joining Indiana University Health, Ms. Chambers was a Partner at the Indianapolis law firm Schultz & Pogue, LLP, where she defended hospitals and health care providers in medical negligence cases.

Ms. Chambers received a Bachelor of Arts in International Studies from Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and her Juris Doctorate from Indiana University Robert H. McKinney School of Law in Indianapolis, Indiana. She is currently President of the Defense Trial Counsel of Indiana. She has been appointed by three different Indiana governors as a Board Member of the Indiana Commission for Women.